SUPPORT TSP

Political representation is intimately linked to political parties and their capacity to effectively represent the different sections of society. This capacity derives from a party's ability to mobilize and keep an engaged membership. To a large extent, the quality of this engagement defines the quality of any democracy.

We cannot therefore expect a well-functioning democracy with effective delivery of services to citizens while citizens keep off political parties and expect those that establish them to bear the responsibility for building these parties largely on their own.

There is a compelling case for staying engaged with your political party of choice.

TSP leadership commits to harness and represent your interests. Our platforms for engagement offer you the means to voice your interests. This way, we are able to gather political ideas from you in order to keep our party relevant and legitimate.

By joining TSP through any of our categories of membership, you become part of our national grassroots movement that will support the change/agenda that TSP stands for.

To make it easy for you to engage, we have digitized our membership engagement platform. Please visit tsp.co.ke

We invite you to join any of the following categories of membership that create a spectrum of options for your engagement that should suit your time and resource availability:
